Sample answer

The Influence of Technology

Technology is everywhere. We browse the Internet using our mobile phones at any time, whereas we are used to socialising, being entertained or informed using technology. How influential it is!

Admittedly, technology has altered how our society functions. Now, news travels instantly, distance becomes unimportant, and entertainment is never-ending. From chat services and AI search engines to videos, podcasts, and films on-demand, our world is more technologically advanced – or dependent – than ever.

Could anyone imagine how life would be without technology access? Personally, not having instant access to a plethora of information and entertainment services, I would have to return to the traditional paper form of newspapers and books. However, I reckon that after a few days filled with boredom, I am sure I would start being resourceful, creating my own games from ordinary objects, also inviting my friends to play together. Moreover, I would go out more, spending time in nature, whereas I would start going to the library to learn about topics of interest.

Overall, it seems easy access to information and entertainment is a big advantage of technology. However, we might have more quality time with our beloved ones and our surroundings without it.
